

You Are Not Alone

Voyager 1, a satellite launched in 1977, left the confines of our galaxy on August 25, 2012. It has traveled 11.66 billion miles from the sun. In the TV show Star Trek, their mission was “to explore strange new worlds, to seek out new life and new civilizations, to boldly go where no man has gone before.” We are always seeking the answer to the question, “Are we alone?”

Could it be we are looking, much of the time, in the wrong places to find out if we are alone? Jeremiah 29:13 Says, “You will seek me and find me when you seek me with all your heart.” Sounds so simple, right? But often we refuse to seek the one who brought us into being. We fill our lives hobbies, vices, and thoughts that leave us feeling empty and alone.

2016 was a real struggle for my family. There were many times I felt like I was falling into a great abyss. I saw my family falling apart right in front of my eyes and I couldn't do anything to stop the nightmare. Every time I thought we were making a step in the right direction something would happen and we would fall back three steps. I felt completely alone. The great thing is my relationship with God is not just a feeling, God told me from scripture the following. Deuteronomy 31:6 (NIV) Be strong and courageous. Do not be afraid or terrified because of them, for the Lord your God goes with you; he will never leave you nor forsake you.” This is what I hold on to. God placed on my heart to put together a devotional website, which in turn helps me focus on God's word and not the things the world is throwing at me. I am glad to say my family is now on a road to recovery, sure there are still issues we are dealing with, but with God leading the way I know we will overcome!

When you feel alone remember you are not! All you need to do is spend a few minutes a day seeking God and He will reveal Himself to you. In that time God will give you guidance, He will show you the path that He has made for you, and most of all He will show you, “You Are Not Alone!”

Listen to Kari Jobe sing I Am Not Alone, what a great picture of our relationship with God.

With everything you have or will face, remember, YOU ARE NOT ALONE!

God Bless,
